

Security & Counter-Terrorism

COUNTER-TERRORISM AWARENESS SEMINAR:

WHAT EVERY SENIOR EXECUTIVE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TERRORISM

Like common crime, as an almost daily occurrence, terrorism is rapidly emerging as a familiar threat. Governments, the private sector, and civil society must all develop mechanisms and measures to cope with this new threat. With governments hardening military, political, and diplomatic targets, terrorist groups are increasingly focusing on “soft” (non-military) targets -- especially economic and commercial targets.

This one-day Counter-Terrorism Awareness seminar offers an understanding of key terrorist organisations, their core and penultimate leadership, their ideologies, motivations, capabilities, strategies, tactics, targets, and the immediate-, mid- and long-term threats they pose both to human and infrastructure targets. By developing a better understanding of terrorist modus operandi [methods of operation], the risk to businesses and business leaders can be significantly reduced.

This Sea-Change Partners seminar focuses on strategies and tactics for responding to the contemporary wave of terrorism. By developing tested security procedures and adopting best practices, the risks – and the costs – associated with terrorism can be lowered. This course will draw heavily from examples of indigenous and foreign groups active in Southeast Asia and around the world. It is designed to help public and private sector leaders better understand, reduce, and manage the threat terrorism poses to their people, their assets, their industry, and their future.
